

Autism-Europe calls on candidates for the European Parliament to express their support to advance the rights of autistic people throughout Europe in the next legislative term 2019-2024.

Now, make a pledge for autism and commit to:

1. support autistic people of all ages and needs, and their families, in their parliamentary work;
2. support measures for the full inclusion of autistic people in society, and the full respect of their rights as outlined in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities;
3. support the removal of barriers preventing autistic people from partaking in education, employment and other areas of life that can foster greater autonomy;
4. support investment in EU initiatives that favour the social inclusion of autistic people and support for their unique needs;
5. support the promotion of diagnosis and early, science-based interventions for autistic children;
6. be open to discussing issues important to the autism community with representative autism organisations.
